STUDIO SEGRETO

Studio Segreto is an ever-evolving project in which every single element acts in creating unique and customized environments, and where the philosophy is simple and clear: "Be Different Be Unique". "Surface Design" is our distinctive feature and our creed. Our strong ability to reinvent materials surfaces does not only rely on the sense of sight but especially on the sense of touch, becoming essential to perceive and truly feel the added value and the highest quality of all our products.

Three basic rules used by Studio Segreto for the production of soft panels in the nursery.

Hypoallergenic fabrics and natural leather (of the highest quality) upholstered in wall panels will create a healthy atmosphere in the children's room. The second point is safety. Since the wall panels in the children's room are made with a soft backing (several additional layers can be made), you can not worry about injuries (for example, during active games). The third factor in favor of panels on the walls is practicality: heat (thermo) and noise insulation. Sound sleep in a warm room is necessary for all babies.

When creating individual veneered wall panels for you, Segreto uses veneer from the world's best manufacturers, of different colors, structures and textures, which is ideal for your interior. The ability to create unique veneered wall panels that convey different ideas, moods, using a variety of textures and colors will create harmony in your home. All this is possible thanks to the production technology and the creative process of the Studio Segreto team.

The panel astonishes us not only by its appearances, but its universality as well. The waves create an inimitable space around them, covering single or multiple surfaces at once making a single pattern. When connecting, large and small waves compose a chaotic nature making your eye to scrutinize into every detail of the pattern. Rippled glass makes an impression of a true water surface whereof a drop of water is about to fall.

We are managed to produce such effect by virtue of specially developed technology and adequate colour. This project is an interference with the waves of small amplitude. On such surface the sunbeams quickly jump from ridge to ridge turning the panel into a real dance of light and glass.

The water in the pool highlights the panel in tints of bluish adding the freshness and air to the exterior around it. The day-night change with such a panel is a true pleasure. It becomes the bright sun in the morning, reflects the cozy twilight in the evening, and starts sparkling truly at night reflecting the starlight and moonlight.
